DARE TO DANCE · DARE TO DREAM
FOR YOURSELF & ALL OUR RELATIONS

Welcome to a special weekend event with the School of Movement Medicine.

We invite you to:

- Be part of an event that will remind you of the possibility we all have to create something of real beauty and value in this world
- Take a leap of faith and imagination that will give you confidence in your ability to manifest your dreams
- Take practical and creative action to transform yourself and the world we live in

We will dance deeply to connect to the five elements and their guardians, and to:

- Find our ground and strengthen our roots
- Nourish and honour the fire within and the passion to dare to dream
- Wash and purify the mind of outmoded ideas, stories and beliefs that no longer serve us
- Find an enduring connection to the visions and inspirations that serve the highest purpose we are here to contribute, for ourselves and all our relations
- Participate in the blessing of a magical night-time ritual, and of creating something of lasting value together as a circle

Embodying and giving thanks for your deepest aspirations and experiencing them as present now, is a core principle in the art of manifesting your dreams. We will create a strong circle and prepare ourselves for a sponsored Long Dance on the Saturday night. The Long Dance, developed by Ya'Acov over the past 15 years, is an invocation and a direct experience of our connection to all of life. Ceremony supports us to open our hearts and to see our own lives, healing and hopes in the wider context of relationship to our ancestors, culture, environment, and the spirit that moves through all things.

It is traditional to have a collective focus as well as a personal focus for ceremony and making offerings or “give-aways” has always been part of ceremonies like the Long Dance. Our prayers are strengthened by what we give back. Therefore, all dancers in the Long Dance Ceremony are invited to raise sponsorship money so that as well as raising energy, the ceremony will raise funds to support projects that reach out at a local, national and international level. This ensures that our work together will have a positive impact beyond our immediate circle. All funds raised will be shared between a locally based project; the School of Movement Medicine Charity which supports people from areas of poverty or conflict to do this work; and 6BillionReasons.org, a creative global project intended to move the hearts and minds of the climate change decision makers to preserve life on earth for future generations. Feel free to contribute what you can to this part of our work together. Whether you raise £10 or £10,000 is not the point. It is the intention to give back with as much generosity as you can that matters. This work is part of your preparation for what promises to be a very powerful Movement Medicine ceremony. Details about this will be sent to you with your confirmation.
